SCHOOL POLICIES

Attendance: If a student is ill or must be absent from school, it is the responsibility of the parents to call the school before 8:30 a.m. The phone number is 859-3806. Tardiness is not accepted. A student is considered tardy if he/she is not in his/her seat when the final bell rings.

One criteria of a student’s success in school is regular and punctual attendance. Frequent absences may lead to poor academic work, lack of social development and possible academic failure. No single factor may interfere with a student’s progress more quickly than frequent tardiness or absence.

According to state law, it is the obligation of every parent to insure that every child under his/her care and supervision receives adequate education and training and, if of compulsory attendance age, attends school.

Transportation is a privilege

Bus Regulations: Students have the privilege of using the transportation services of Wenden Elementary School. Rigid standards of discipline must be maintained at all times in order to satisfy requirements. Whenever a driver must direct his/her attention away from the road, danger exists. Foremost in our minds is the safety of each passenger.

While riding the bus:

1. Except for ordinary conversation, students shall observe quiet conduct on the bus.
2. Students shall stay in their seat while the bus is in motion.
3. Students shall not throw waste paper on the floor of the bus.
4. Students shall not have food, candy, or drinks on the bus.
5. No Part of the body shall be extended through the bus window.
6. Students must be quiet while the bus is stopped for railway crossings
7. Students shall not leave the bus from the emergency door unless an emergency exists.

Discipline and Penalties:

8. The riding privilege of a student may be revoked for violation of the rules or for conduct which is detrimental to the safe operation of the school bus.
9. The driver is in full charge of the bus and the students.

Questions concerning any item as to the appropriateness of possessing that item should be referred to the office.

 - g. Possible side effects
2. The medication must be brought to school in a container appropriately labeled by the pharmacy or physician.
3. An individual record will be kept of such prescription medicines administered by school personnel.

Unless these requirements can be met, medications will not be administered at school.

WE NEED PARENTS

Parents are necessary in order for the team to be complete. You are the first and most important teacher your child will ever have. It is tremendous responsibility, but as a team working together, we will be successful. Volunteer your time for any idea you have. We value your input. There are some programs in place that could use parent volunteers, and some programs that need to be started. If there are any suggestions as to how the school could be made better, come and share these ideas.

We encourage you to visit our school whenever you can. Support the students in the activities offered at the school. Encourage them to participate. Activities enhance the educational process for students.

LA PAZ COUNTY TRUANCY INFORMATION

Updated 4/23/10 by Karen Hobbs, Prosecuting Attorney

1. NO COURT ORDER IN PLACE

A. Juvenile or Parent

- i. Once a student has their 6th unexcused absence or has been absent more than ten percent of the attendance days for the year (the 19th absence at schools with five-day weeks and the 15th absence at schools in four-day weeks), school official shall send all documentation to the County Attorney's office for review and possible filing of incorrigibility charges against the juvenile and/or misdemeanor charges against the parent. Cases may also be referred for intermediate intervention prior to this point.
- ii. The County Attorney may choose to file charges against either the child or parent. As a general rule, charges will be filed against the parent if the child is younger than 11 years old. However, regardless of the juvenile's age, the County Attorney's office may file charges against the parent upon proof that the parent is the cause of the juvenile's poor attendance.
- iii. At the first court appearance, the judge is likely to issue a court order stating that the juvenile shall have no unexcused absences or tardies. The County Attorney's Office will notify the school of this action and the school will flag the juvenile's attendance records and notify the prosecuting attorney of any violations.
- iv. The judge will then schedule a review hearing approximately 30 days from the advisory/initial appearance. At the review hearing, if the juvenile has had no unexcused absences or tardies for the 30 days, the prosecuting attorney may consider dismissing the case. Should future violations occur in the same school year, the charges could be refilled.

2. COURT ORDER IN PLACE

A. Juvenile

- i. If the juvenile has an unexcused absence or tardy or additional excessive absences due to the actions of the juvenile, then the juvenile is in violation of the court order.
- ii. The school will document the absence or tardy and notify the County Attorney's office of the violation as soon as possible.
- iii. The case will be added to the next court calendar for a status hearing. At that hearing, the juvenile will either make an admission (to being incorrigible) or the matter will be set for an adjudicatory (trial in the juvenile court).
- iv. If the juvenile admits or is adjudicated incorrigible, disposition (sentencing) will be at the judge's discretion. Possible options for the judge:
 1. send the juvenile to detention for the weekend
 2. place the juvenile on probation

B. Parent

- i. The school will document the juvenile's absence and notify the County Attorney's office of the violation as soon as possible.
- ii. The case will be added to the next court calendar for a status hearing. At that hearing the parent will either plead guilty to the charge, a class 3 misdemeanor, or the matter will be set for trial.
- iii. If the parent pleads guilty or is found guilty, sentencing will be at the judge's discretion. Possible options for the judge:
 1. Place the parent on probation with any jail time suspended. If the juvenile has another unexcused absence while the parent is on probation

- and that absence is due to actions taken, or not taken, by the parent, the parent may serve 24 hours in jail.
2. Fine the parent up to $500
 3. Place the parent in jail up to 30 days
- iv. Possible options for the prosecutor: Charge interfering with judicial proceedings, a class one misdemeanor with consequences of fines up to $2500 and 6 months in jail.

Addition to Truancy Policy to Address Tardiness (as of 8-12-10)

Existing Law allows for prosecution of tardies in extreme cases:

- Habitual Truancy is unexcused absence from at least one class period out of five school days. § 15-803.
- Parents are required to ensure the child is enrolled and attends school the full time school is in session. § 15-802.
- Contributory delinquency and/or contributory dependency may apply to truancy matters. § 13-3613.

Schools have asked for help. The first period class is typically reading. The superintendents explained that the child who continually misses reading or other critical instruction, whether by missing full days or by missing accumulated minutes equivalent to full days due to tardiness, is at a significant disadvantage in learning the required material. The problem will become more pronounced when the new legislation requiring grade-level reading for promotion from third grade goes into effect. Only a few families need this extra ‘encouragement’. By having a policy that leads eventually to some consequence, the school has a better means to encourage compliance, which in turn helps children succeed in school.

It is expected that prosecution for tardies will be quite rare. A great deal of the success of the regular truancy program lies in its existence. The simple fact of having a systematic plan for dealing with truantries reduces truantries. Parents know there are consequences for nonattendance, and their kids are attending. It is very common to hear that a child has no more attendance issues after one court appearance.

The tardy policy would be modeled after the county truancy policy, providing increasing levels of consequences for continued violations. The proposed tardy policy is based on a 75-minute class period, although most classes are of shorter duration. Prosecution, the last resort, will only become an option after a child has accumulated more than five full class periods of unexcused absences through tardies. Five full class periods equals 375 minutes. Consequences, based on the accrued unexcused minutes missed from class for tardies, would be as follows:

Action Step	Triggered by # of Minutes	Consequence
1	100	verbal warning to parent from attendance secretary
2	150	warning letter from school
3	225	warning letter from county school superintendent
4	300	team meeting with school, parent, Karen & Ray
5	375+	file charges against parent

This tardy policy is intended to apply only where children are in grades K – 8 and fall within the compulsory education laws and are dependent upon their parents for getting to school on time. Where the child is responsible for being tardy or in the upper grades where the school has procedures in place for dealing with tardiness, this policy would not apply.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE

Purpose of Disciplinary Plan

The purpose of this plan is to 1) define behavior by a student that will result in disciplinary consequences and 2) set forth a due process procedure for various types of behaviors. A student who engages in behavior outlined by this plan will be disciplined.

Discipline Plan

The following is a guideline for maintaining an orderly learning environment at Wenden Elementary School. Students who choose not to follow the rules below will be dealt with according to the guidelines listed. The teacher or administration may consider extenuating circumstances when carrying out the following regulations.

School Wide Rules

The first step in establishing an organized and methodical environment conducive to learning is to establish and implement school wide rules, so that the students come to depend on finding the same expectations throughout the school.

1. Do not bring food or drink in school buildings.
2. Be in your assigned seat when the tardy bell stops ringing.
3. Come to class prepared to work with all required materials.
4. Be respectful of all people. Do not interrupt learning. Do not use profanity.
Keep you hands, feet and objects to yourself.

Due Process

Listed above are some of the major disciplinary problem areas and the actions that will result for those students who cannot live by the rules. All students are entitled to due process. This means there are certain appropriate disciplinary actions. There are also procedures which students must follow if they do not agree with the school's actions

Hopefully, students will never be in a situation where they need protection of due process. If, however, a student does become involved in a situation in which a suspension or expulsion might result, both the student and his/her parents will be given a more detailed description of the due process procedures.
