

Parentheses

When to use	Example
To set off and de-emphasize nonessential explanatory material. (Use instead of dashes to soften and not draw attention to the nonessential items.)	Three CEO's (all under 35) will speak about their successful climbs up the organizational ladder.